Harbor Lane Employee Handbook

This handbook explains how we work together at Harbor Lane Coffee Roasters. It covers time off, expenses, travel, security and benefits. Harbor Lane is a fictional company and this handbook is a sample document for a hobby project.

If something here conflicts with your offer letter, your offer letter wins. Questions go to people-team@harborlane.example.

1. Time off

1.1 Vacation

Full-time employees receive 20 days of paid vacation each calendar year. Part-time employees accrue vacation in proportion to their scheduled hours.

Unused vacation can roll over into the next calendar year, up to a maximum of 5 days. Anything above 5 days expires on January 1. We would rather you rest than bank days.

Ask your manager for approval at least two weeks ahead for trips longer than three days. During the holiday roasting season, from November 15 to December 31, we may limit how many people on the roastery floor are out at once.

1.2 Sick days

Take the time you need when you are unwell. You do not need a doctor's note for absences of three consecutive days or fewer. Tell your manager as early as you can so shifts can be covered.

1.3 Parental leave

All employees who have completed 90 days of service are eligible for paid parental leave. The amount depends on your role and is set out in the table below. Leave can be taken in one block or split into two blocks within the first year.

Leave type	Roastery and cafe staff	Office staff	Pay
Primary caregiver	16 weeks	16 weeks	100% of base pay
Secondary caregiver	6 weeks	8 weeks	100% of base pay
Adoption or foster placement	12 weeks	12 weeks	100% of base pay
Bereavement (immediate family)	5 days	5 days	100% of base pay

Parental leave runs alongside any leave provided by law, not on top of it.

2. Expenses

2.1 What you can expense

You can expense reasonable costs you incur while doing your job: travel, meals with customers or suppliers, training courses and small equipment. Keep receipts for anything over $25.

2.2 Approvals

Expenses under $500 need approval from your manager. Expenses of $500 or more also need approval from the finance lead, Dana Okafor. Equipment over $1,500 must be bought through the finance team rather than expensed.

Submit expenses within 30 days. Claims older than 90 days will not be reimbursed.

A note on the office kitchen while we're here: the espresso machine on the second floor is for everyone, and it is descaled every Friday afternoon. Please don't leave cups in the sink, and report broken equipment to facilities@harborlane.example.

3. Travel

3.1 Booking

Book flights and hotels through the TravelDesk portal so we can find you if something goes wrong. Economy class for flights under six hours; premium economy is fine for longer flights.

3.2 Meals and per diem

Domestic trips: up to $60 per day for meals. International trips: up to the equivalent of $85 per day, or GBP 70 per day in the United Kingdom. Alcohol is not covered unless you are hosting a customer.

Travel days also count toward the per diem. If a trip ends before noon, claim half a day.

4. Security

4.1 Laptops and phones

Company laptops are encrypted and managed centrally. Never disable disk encryption or the endpoint agent. Lock your screen when you step away, even in the office.

If your laptop or phone is lost or stolen, report it to security@harborlane.example within one hour. We can wipe the device remotely, and the sooner we know, the less there is to worry about. You will not get in trouble for reporting a missing device.

4.2 Passwords and sign-in

Use the company password manager for every work account and turn on single sign-on wherever it is offered. Policy HL-SEC-07 requires a hardware security key for anyone with access to payment systems.

4.3 Reporting incidents

If you think something is wrong, such as a strange email asking for gift cards or a supplier suddenly changing bank details, tell security before you act. Pausing to check is always the right call.

5. Benefits

Harbor Lane pays 90% of health insurance premiums for employees and 70% for dependants. We match retirement contributions up to 4% of base pay, and every employee gets a monthly coffee allowance of two bags from the current roast.

Learning budget: each employee has $1,000 per year for courses, books and conferences. Unused learning budget does not roll over.
